University of California, Riverside
Department of Mathematics

Visiting Assistant Professor Positions

Applications are invited for multiple Visiting Assistant Professor positions for academic year 2016-2017, contingent upon available funding. The positions are open to applicants from all research areas in Mathematics. The teaching load is six courses per year. In addition to teaching, the applicants will be responsible for attending advanced seminars and working on research projects.

Applicants should log on to mathjobs.org to submit their curriculum vitae, including a list of publications, a teaching statement, a research statement, a diversity statement and a minimum of 3 letters of recommendation. One of the letters must address the applicant's teaching. Evaluation of applications will begin March 24, 2016 and continue until the positions are filled. University regulations and laws concerning confidentiality govern all letters of recommendation (see Academic Personnel Manual 160- http://www.ucop.edu/academic-personnel/_files/apm/apm-160.pdf).

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

This is initially a one-year appointment, and with successful annual teaching review, it is renewable for up to a third year term.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer with a strong institutional commitment to the achievement of excellence and diversity among its faculty and staff. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.